PHARMA 1 HUMANITAS MOBILE CLINICAL-SURGICAL CONTAINER

OVERVIEW

The six 20-foot shipping containers that make up the typical Surgical Hospital. The surgical containers are converted into an extremely durable medical facility. An operation room (made up of two 20-foot containers), pre- and post-OT rooms, a sterilisation unit, a storage unit, and a staff unit are all included in the conventional setup. A light central facility connects the apartments.

UTILISATION IN HUMANITARIAN & EMERGENCY SCENARIO

The Surgical Hospital-container it is ISO certified made in Italy can be used as a semi-permanent hospital in post-disaster scenario or in cases of force majeure in humanitarian sector for the rural & urban development in the peripheral African villages or areas hit by natural disasters. It is intended for both small and large surgery. By locating the hospitals strategically, medical practitioners may quickly upgrade the health infrastructure because the facilities are mission-ready.

To prevent ink diffusion onto the product, printing is done on a line that is outside of the sterilisation space along the seals between papers and material. Clear blue protect covering that makes it simple to see what's within. reinforced sheet to prevent plastic from separating when opening. Better than average medical grade paper, the triple seal line's strength and spacing ensure a steady seal during the sterilising process and outstanding peelability during the cutting phase—all without ripping or releasing paper fibres. Process indicators that include steam and formaldehyde are available upon request. Water-based, non-toxic inks that meet Standard 11140 certification are certified. Each component complies with global requirements.

Sterilisation centres employ this equipment, a height-adjustable packaging table, in their packaging sections. Before moving on to the next stage of sterilisation, this table is used to package, check, and manage textiles and equipment that come from the washing sections. As a result, it fits precisely in between the sterilisation and washing phases. Several accessories, such as shelving and a roll holder cutter with a tape dispenser, are attached to the table to make the packing and inspection process easier.
